

NORTHLINK AVIATION ANNOUNCES INVESTMENT FROM ALASKA FUTURE FUND

November 30, 2021 – NorthLink Aviation (“NorthLink” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce that the Alaska Future Fund, has made an investment in the Company. The Alaska Future Fund is managed by Barings LLC which serves as an external fund manager to the Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation’s Alaska Investment Program. The Alaska Future Fund seeks to make investments that will support core sectors of Alaska’s economy, foster next generation private market opportunities in the state and generate strong market-based investment returns. NorthLink is developing a world-class air cargo terminal at the south campus of the Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (“ANC”).

“Having the Alaska Future Fund invest in NorthLink reinforces the critical role that the Company will play in growing the Anchorage economy by providing world class air cargo infrastructure at ANC,” said Sean Dolan, NorthLink’s CEO. “We are grateful for the support of the Alaska Future Fund and the investment they are making on behalf of all Alaskans.”

Mina Pacheco Nazemi, Managing Director of the Alaska Future Fund at Barings said, “We are excited to partner with Tiger Infrastructure Partners and NorthLink to help expand the air cargo infrastructure at ANC. Air cargo and ANC account for a large segment of the Alaskan economy and we are pleased that all Alaskans will benefit from this investment.”

NorthLink is developing a world-class air cargo terminal at the south campus of the Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (“ANC”). The company has signed a 55-year lease on a 120-acre property at ANC. NorthLink is focused on developing the south campus terminal in a manner that positively impacts Alaska and the Anchorage community, which includes working with Anchorage-based firms.
